Re: PBC Revised Fee Schedule

Dear Paul:

This letter is submitted to you to confirm your conversation with Jon Van Daveer regarding The Gordian Group's (TGG) fee structure. Because the size of projects awarded to TGG is substantially larger than anticipated when the contract was executed, TGG is willing to reduce the fees charged to the PBC. We propose the following revised fee schedule:

Project Size	Fee
<$300,000	11%
$300,000 - $1,000,000	9%
>$1,000,000	7%

Additionally, the following terms and conditions shall apply to this revised fee schedule:

1. All invoices previously submitted at 11% will be paid by the PBC.
2. There will be no further invoicing for projects previously billed at 11% (i.e., the additional 3% fee specified in the contract will not be billed).
3. To recover our start-up costs, TGG will invoice the four (4) projects listed below at 11% (all other projects will be billed according to the revised fee schedule above):
 - a. Fleet Additional Work
 - b. Skinner – Phase 3
 - c. PD – 23
 - d. Langston Hughes Demo – Phase 2
4. Effectively immediately, TGG will submit one invoice for each project when the NTP is issued to the JOC Contractor.
5. The above revised fee schedule is based on an annual volume of at least $16,000,000. We respectfully request the opportunity to revisit the fee structure in the event the annual volume falls below $16,000,000.

To ensure the PBC's success with JOC, it is important for all parties to understand that our revised fee schedule is comprised of three distinct components, representing the services provided by TGG:

- The JOC System License Fee is 2%
- The Scope Development and Procurement Fee varies between 6% and 2%, based upon project size
- The Construction Management Fee at 3%

The JOC System License Fee and the Scope Development and Procurement Fee are not construction related and should not be included in the ledger sheet for the construction budget or costs. The only fee that should be included in the soft costs for construction is the 3% fee for the Construction Management services provided by TGG. We suggest that the PBC revise how TGG's fees are accounted for to better reflect the services provided.

The current perception of the Owners and the PMO is that the TGG Construction Management fee is either 14% or 11%. However, this is not true. Only 3% of our fee is attributed to Construction Management. The balance of our fee, which is being reduced according to the revised fee schedule above, is for administration and procurement of the projects.

TGG believes that that the use of JOC will result in great savings to the PBC and the Owners served by PBC. We request your help to dispel the perception that JOC is too expensive because of TGG's fee. TGG can't do this alone. The PBC needs to help educate the PMO and the Owners that JOC results in an overall savings to the project. Additionally, we request that you advise the PMO that JOC is the preferred method for site preparation construction for the PBC construction sites.

We appreciate the confidence you have placed in TGG. Please let me know if our revised fee structure is acceptable to the PBC.

Sincerely
